

Annual Conference 16 May 2019

Call for papers - Corporate

CALL FOR PAPERS

Deadline for submissions – 28 September 2018

Each year our Annual Conference offers a range of speakers from both the corporate and charity sectors; CFG relies on our members to share their knowledge and experience so that our community can grow stronger.

For this year's Annual Conference, we are looking for charity finance professionals from a variety of backgrounds and organisations to share their experience so that others can learn from them.

In order to encourage diversity in our audience, this year we are looking for a wide range of sessions that all levels from junior to more experienced finance professionals can benefit from.

We would like the sessions to be focussed around this year's theme of:

Confident, Dynamic & Trustworthy

The theme reflects CFG's core values and what we hope to inspire in the charity sector. CFG wants to drive forward social change through the lens of financial confidence, so that charities are able to dynamically respond to the challenges they face and ensuring that charities are able to use every pound they are given as effectively as possible, in turn enabling them to win the trust of the public.

The event's streams will revolve around this theme and will include technical updates, reporting best-practice, strategy, regulation updates and personal development.

If you have an exciting achievement to share, or an interesting story to tell, that would be relevant to our members, we would love to hear from you.

Please note: priority will be given to those organisations who will be speaking alongside a charity.

To submit a session for the CFG Annual Conference please complete the form below and return it to us by 28 September 2018. The sessions will be reviewed and shortlisted and we might get back in touch to ask for further details before making a final decision.

Please return your completed form to events.team@cfg.org.uk
